

Working at L-3 Communications Corporation

L-3 Communications Corporation is a supplier of a wide range of products and services that are crucial to the defense and aerospace industries. Business segments within the company are: Command, Control, Communications, Intelligence, Surveillance and Reconnaissance; Government Services; Aircraft Modernization and Maintenance; and Electronic Systems. Within the company's business segments, product offerings include signals intelligence and communications intelligence systems, engineering services, information technology services, training services, aircraft modernization and upgrades, microwave products, antenna products, and power and control systems. The company's customers include the U.S. Department of Defense and its prime contractors, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, U.S. Government intelligence agencies, major aerospace and defense contractors, allied foreign government ministries of defense, commercial customers, and some other U.S. federal, state, and local government agencies.

As the sixth largest defense company within the United States, L-3 Communications is a primary supplier of homeland defense services, including products in aviation, port, maritime and cargo security. Crisis management services, intrusion detection, and vehicles for first responders are also handled by L-3 Communications.

Internships with L-3 Communications are available for students involved in studies within professional technical branches. L-3 Communications also values employees with military experience and encourages those with military backgrounds to apply. Employees with L-3 Communications are eligible for medical insurance, dental coverage, a vision plan, flexible spending accounts, short-term disability, long-term disability and long-term care. An Employee Assistance Program is also available to employees who wish to access the services it provides. The L-3 benefits package also offers life insurance, 401(k), paid time off, holidays, an employee stock purchase plan, development opportunities, and an L-3 Corporate Perks Program.

There are 680 job listings with L-3 Communications on www.hound.com and only 42 listings on monster.com. Hound listings include systems engineer, logistics analyst, computer systems specialist, test engineer, and Chinese senior linguist. The listings on monster's job search site include quality analyst, engineering administrator, electromechanical assembler, and business cost analyst.