

GEICO Jobs

Introduction- GEICO- Government Employee Insurance Company is an organization dealing in auto insurance. It is a fully owned subsidiary of the Berkshire Hathaway. As in 2007, the company offered coverage to more 10 million vehicles and had over 9 million customers.

Company History: GEICO was founded by Leo Goodwin and Lillian, his wife, in 1936 to offer auto insurance to the federal employees directly. In 1937, they relocated the company to Washington, D.C. The company was also reincorporated as D.C. corporation once they realized that the business model will work best there due to the high number of federal employees.

David Lloyd Kreeger was an important part of the company. He became GEICO's president in 1965 and steered it towards becoming a major enterprise. He formed an investor group in 1948 who bought into the company before it went public the same year. In 1974, he also became the general counsel and senior vice president of the company. GEICO started insuring the general public once computerized real time driving records became accessible in the country.

GEICO also offered other types of insurance during the years. GELICO, a sister company, provided life insurance for a few years starting in 1975. The company also provided homeowner's insurance from 1962 until 1996. After several years of being a publicly traded company, GEICO became a fully owned subsidiary of the Berkshire Hathaway in 1996.

Usual Openings: Jobs at GEICO offer employees with a lasting and rewarding career. GEICO jobs are available to highly experienced professionals searching for a new opportunity and to recent graduates alike. The company offers a team-oriented work environment which encourages professional and personal success. It offers its employees with the tools they need for succeeding in the business, performance based promotions and a wide range of career choices.

GEICO jobs are usually available in the areas mentioned below:

- Customer contact
- Information Technology
- Professional Careers

Current openings: Careers in GEICO are based firmly on ensuring that the quality of life of the employees is satisfactory. Full time GEICO jobs come with a comprehensive and competitive Total Rewards Program. This program includes a wide range of options for preserving well being and health, build wealth and secure the financial future of the employees and their families. GEICO jobs offer a collegial and stable working environment and a wide range of career alternatives. The company also offers its employees several online training and on-site classes through its university. Some of the benefits that come with GEICO jobs include perks and amenities, development and education, life and family programs, leave and time off programs, well being and health programs.

Given below are a few of the currently available jobs in GEICO:

- Insurance sales representative
- Liability claims representative
- Adjuster- auto damage
- Business analysts
- Leadership program- Supervisor
- Senior Dispatcher
- Attorney
- Senior Security Investigator
- Communications Specialist
- Underwriting Analysts