

Dannon: A Career at a Leading Fresh Dairy Producer

Introduction- You've seen their label on a variety of dairy products on shelves in your local grocery store, but have you considered working for them? Dannon is a company that's been around since 1942, making it one of the organizations that you can feel sure about its longevity.

They're old enough to be most company's grandparents, but this doesn't mean that they are old and stuffy. Dannon tries to keep things fresh, not only with their dairy products, but within their organization as well. When hiring new recruits, they are looking for:

- Commitment
- Open-mindedness
- Doers
- Empowerment

These are all traits of future leaders, which are needed in institutions that want to stick around for as long as Dannon has. Being committed to your work and the company will provide long-term success for the employee and the business. This is shown through projects and daily tasks that are done by the employee. Also, being open-minded to learning and sharing with colleagues is necessary for personal growth and possibly a higher position within the organization. Of course, being a doer is necessary for getting work done. Being empowering and helping to develop your fellow man or woman will make you a great leader.
