

National Instruments, Austin, Texas

Introduction- Founded in 1976, National Instruments is a 5000+ employee organization headquartered in Austin, Texas. Its annual revenue stands at $1-$2 billion and its closest competitor is Agilent Technologies.

1. Co-Founder, President & CEO of the Company - Dr James J. Truchard
2. Co-Founder and NI Business and Technology Fellow - Jeff Kodosky
3. No Of Employees - 5000+

Why Work for National Instruments in Austin, Texas

This is a company that has found a place on many lists that count companies with the best work-life balance. In other words, this is a company which provides its employees with a very conducive work atmosphere where both work and home are equally taken care of. In the present day, this qualification alone is enough to make it a dream organization for many.

However, there is more. National Instruments Corporation clearly shows that it cares for its employees through the benefits it offers them:

- 24x7 professional counseling service that is 100% confidential. Employees can call any time they need a toll-free number and access these counseling services.
- Offers life insurance, long-term and short-term disability plans
- 24x7 onsite fitness center for employees
- Paid bereavement days
- 10 paid sick leaves per year
- 10 yearly paid holidays
- 2 weeks paid vacation
- 401K program for employees

-
- Onsite health center which is staffed by a doctor, a registered nurse, nurse practitioner and support staff.
  - Dental plan that is affordable and flexible.
  - Affordable and comprehensive medical plans.
  - Discounted stock available for employees.
  - Group legal plan for discounted legal services
  - Tuition scholarships for degree studies
  - Performance bonus

How to Apply for a Career at National Instruments, Austin, Texas

You can search and apply for jobs at National Instruments at Hound.com for US citizens and global jobs.

Fresh graduates are encouraged to apply as long as they are looking for a workplace that offers them ownership, work freedom, respect as an individual and mentally challenging and highly rewarding projects. NI provides leading-edge technology, a relaxed work atmosphere and excellent opportunities to nurture professional growth.

National Instruments has been voted among the top 10 companies that offer the best work-life balance, which says enough about the work atmosphere and culture it provides. With good salaries, excellent growth opportunities, and a working environment where everyone can become a leader, it is not surprising that this company is among the most wanted on job-seekers' lists.