

What is the Sexiest Thing about Your Job?

There are so many different kinds of jobs out there. Some are dirty, some are considered “dull” or “boring”, others are dangerous, and still others are exciting. No matter what job they have, we set out to discover what people thought was the sexiest thing about their job. We hope you enjoy reading through these interesting and varied responses that we received. If you want to share the sexiest thing about your job, feel free to share it in the comments below the article.

The sexiest thing about my job is...pretty much everything. I work as a consultant, and one of my regular gigs is publicity for Circlet Press, a Cambridge (MA) publisher of erotic romances. We're female-owned, feminist, and all-inclusive -- and we publish mostly ebooks, so we tend to run on Rule 34 (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Rule_34_\(Internet_meme\))). I run the social media here, so I pretty much spend all my billable hours helping people to find the intelligently-written porn they want.

The sexiest thing about my job is the books I get to publicize and market! I work with Cleis Press, a publisher of smart smut and sex guides, so I'm rolling in the sexy every day.

I am a freelance professional photographer. The sexy part of my job is the confidence that I have running my business and meeting new people. When you're confident people will generally gravitate toward you. Plus, knock on wood, I do end up having some really amazing photo shoots with some beautiful women.

Trying on stunning, contemporary fine jewelry by the designers I work with is definitely the sexiest thing about my job. I love how diamonds and colored gems sparkle, and make a lady feel her most feminine.

About a year ago I made the decision to start my own company and while it has been difficult at times, I've never been sorry. The sexiest things about my job are these:

1. I am the CEO, the CFO, the CMO and the CIO. I love doing all four and love the freedom of decision it allows me. I live and die by my decisions, but am confident in my ability to do all four (yes, even when I'm wrong!)
2. The ability to be myself, make the rules, make my own game plans, set company goals and the strategies to reach them. I can hold my head high and be secure in the future of the company - even when things aren't perfect. I head out every day with a smile on my face and a song in my heart.
3. I have the ability to choose my clients. I love those that I work with and it doesn't matter how late into the night I occasionally have to go - it never feels like work because I love what I do and it's in pursuit of my dream and those of the clients with whom I work!

I'm a professional comedian who tours the world doing clean comedy. I've performed in 21 countries and vacationed to many others. I've also performed for Barack Obama, Donald Trump, Steve Wozniak, Hillary Clinton, Mike Bloomberg, etc.

The sexiest part of my job is the fact that all of my travel is first-class/five-star. It's also the fact that I get to perform for thousands of people, and meet and hang out with people all over the States and the world.

Another one of the sexiest parts of my job is the beautiful women that this average looking guy gets to meet and travel with - you know what they say about a guy with a sense of humor!

There are a lot of sexy things about my job. Anywhere from working on SEO in my PJ's to being my own boss. I am sure I have the best job in the world. I am a wedding photographer.

Mandy Fierens

Being an actor, I'd have to say that the sexiest thing about my job is watching others do what they are passionate about, from set construction builders building a set to creative women applying make-up. It's sometimes hard not to hit on everyone on set.

Paul Cram

I am a PR Consultant, and the thing that makes my job sexy to me is the number of companies that I get to take a peek behind the curtain at and really see what is going on. However, my friends always think it's because I have been on TV or because I know a prominent journalist.

Of course, being an artist who has drawn, painted and sculpted nude women for decades I can say that getting to work with some of the world's most beautiful nude women is quite sexy.

The sexiest thing about my job:

The lure of the open road and the freedom of travel.

I live in a 22-foot Rialta RV with my boyfriend, a dog, and a cat. I travel all over the country, writing, researching, and running. In the past year, we have driven more than 30,000 miles and I have run more than 2,000 miles (mostly trail). More about my book, my writing, and my travels can be found at <http://www.vanessaruns.com>.

The sexiest thing about my job is the fact that I get to work out, yes exercise, for a living.

I am the Fitness Director at the Philadelphia branch of the Environmental Protection Agency. I train people, teach fitness classes, and run the entire fitness center for government employees. But for an hour each day I also get to train myself on my lunch break.

I also have my own business, Jillian Bullock Enterprises, LLC, and I am a fitness, wellness and empowerment coach. Nothing is sexier than being fit and healthy and helping others achieve their fitness goals.

The "sexiest" aspect to our job is our team environment. We are a small, young start-up and work long hours. Whenever we are not in the office though, we love going on team adventures. We frequently rock climb, host dinners at our homes and apartments, and play tennis when the weather is nice.

The best adventure we have had to date took place this summer. We are lucky to have a client who offered for us to stay at his home in St. John. We spent a week in the Caribbean. Some highlights included spearing and hunting our own lobsters and swimming with sea turtles. It was an unbelievable experience!
