

---

A Gratifying Career in Travel and Tourism

Are you passionate about travelling and exploring new destinations? You can choose to pursue a career in the travel and tourism industry. The travel and tourism industry across the globe has seen an upward trend in recent years. It is one of the most rewarding and fast growing industries.

The travel and tourism of any nation directly impacts the economic growth and other essential factors like art and culture, agriculture, construction, infrastructure, etc. This industry is diverse and offers new career possibilities and expanded services in various sectors like airlines, rail transport, road transport, hotels, food and beverages, outdoor recreation, eco-tourism and more.

Students who wish to pursue their career in the travel and tourism industry can join a diploma course or choose a certification program from a reputed institute. A course in tourism will teach you all the important aspects and give you some exposure to the industry. Everything from quality management to designing tour packages, making reservations, marketing strategies and much more is covered in the diploma courses in tourism.

Apart from the academic qualification, you also need to possess excellent interpersonal skills, have effective communication skills, creative abilities, be flexible and have patience for growth and development. This industry demands a lot of hard work, determination and dedication. Good marketing skills, organizational skills and the ability to handle emergencies are some qualities you need to possess if you desire to make your career in the travel and tourism industry.

There are numerous job opportunities this industry offers in both public and private sectors. In the public sector you can choose to work with railway transport or be directorates and join the department of tourism for a particular nation. The private sector offers a plethora of career options like airlines, cruises, the hospitality industry, tour operators, travel agencies and more. You can find different job profiles and job roles from making reservations to marketing, sales, tour planners, tour guides, travel bloggers, air hostesses, underground staff, cruise managers and many more.

Full time employees in this industry are paid well and enjoy perks on regular intervals based on their performance. Your experience, marketing skills and abilities, the size of the organization, etc. determines the salary in this industry. Although this is a service industry, with great exposure and years of experience, you can also choose to be self-employed as a tour operator or travel agency organizing tours.

With excellent job opportunities, the tours and travel industry boasts various additional benefits employees enjoy such as free or discounted travel for employees and families, the ability to meet a lot of new people and visit places across the globe. If you possess all these qualities, the travel and tourism industry is an ideal choice to have a successful and rewarding career.

---